WILL WE PRESERVE OUR AMERICANISM.

In Chicago forty languages are spoken, and in New York City eighteen languages can be found in one block. Every fourth person on Manhattan Island is a Hebrew. St. Louis and St. Paul are more German in character than they are American and from lakes to gulf, from ocean to ocean the cry is, "still they come." True we have the unoccupied acres, and this is particularly true of our Southland. But the serious question arises, can we make Americans of those who come? or will they eventually destroy our Americanism? Better far uncultivated acres than lose our characteristics or a people infinitely better, to yield success in things material than lose our Sunday—"The land of the free and the home of the brave," and that's true, but let it also remain true that our fellow citizens do not confound liberty with license and are never so fearless as not to "fear God and keep His commandments."

THE WEEK.

The Virginia legislature assembled under unique and altogether interesting conditions. The Capitol building was fresh from the hands of architects and builders and shone out in resplendent beauty on the commanding and historic site. For the first time in the history of the Commonwealth the message of a Governor was read by it's author—Governor Montague's farewell words fell from his own lips, and were wise and well chosen. If his advice is only followed we would have a model Commonwealth.

But it is with messages as it is with platforms they seem to be framed to please people's fancy, to catch the public ear.

We do not agree with the compulsory educational recommendation of his Excellency. Men may be induced to the right course but we very much doubt that they can be driven to it.

It was a surprise to us that Gen. Lee's son was not made speaker of the House, but his defeat may teach Virginians the very useful lesson that every club must stand on its own bottom and now that the legislature has organized for work let us have the very best that's in them.

The news from Washington has been of the "strenuous" sort. First in importance is that the President is losing his grip. When he undertakes to muzzle the free press in free America he is reckless enough to undertake that which no mere mortal man can accomplish. The press has done much towards making Mr Roosevelt as it does for all other public men and the work of unmaking it is simply superhuman. And then the "rough rider" would ride rough-shod over Senate and House, and at the same time would hedge the White House about with frowning fomalities that belong more to royalty than to a republic. The idol of yesterday may soon have none to do homage. Speaker Cannon says there shall be no public building legislation passed this session. And does that end it? And is this America or Russia?

Governor Montague has been elected Dean of he law department of Richmond College. The Index-Appeal made a handsome reference to Governor Montague's message. Verily the war is over "Le no have-nence."

Mr. Tucker is returning from Europe, having accomplished great things, as it is believed, for the Jamestown Exposition.

An avalanche of bills has come down on the table of the Clerk of the Virginia Legislature.

Forgeries of Norfolk and Western Securities have assumed international importance. The innocents of two continents have been well fleeced.

Travel by rail is perceptibly diminished so far as statesmen are concerned.

Dr. Alderman repudiates the suggestion that he would leave the University of Virginia for that of Chicago.

The Czar has been driven to more desperate measures—"This is when the gods wish to destroy they must first make mad."

Roanoke river is to be harnessed for the development of electrical power.

A farm in the county of Chesterfield, which a few years ago sold for $7,000 recently sold for $60,000 and still belongs to the party who bought it for $7000, the timber alone bringing the $60,000. The old short grass Southside is coming to the front It seems as though we were to have four Normal Schools for the girls in Virginia, Farmville, Radford, Newport News and Harrisonburg. The girls are entitled to the best.

Collier's Monthly has been "going for" the "King Cure Alls" and those who "prey on the incurables," Barnum was right when he said the American people do love to be humbugged.

Rural Free Delivery.

We heard some one complaining recently that the rural free delivery expense was greater than the government should bear. This is all nonsense. Every dollar spent is the money of the people and is being spent at home and for the benefit of the people. Let the good work go on until every American citizen whose home is in the country is as much an object of governmental care as is the denizen of the city. We wasted millions in the Philippines and are still wasting there. We are not so sure that we are not reckless in our Canal venture but to American dollar is steeped that contributes to the comforts and convenience of an American citizen.

The inauguration of the free canal routes has not only given employment to worthy citizens, but it has in some measure at least wiped out the old Star-route disgrace, and at the same time given birth to a number of new and profitable industries and all at home. The R. F. D. Journal has already a circulation of 19,000, and is being read with interest by the carriers and others. It contains much useful information as well as articles of interest, and is doing the work of teacher. And these carts and wagons and boxes and bags of varying sorts and sizes are being made and sold at a profit. Again we say let the good work go on, and let the government not only carry the mails to every American's door but over good American roads.

SAVED MY LIFE

That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't see or refer to testimonials but addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

THE TIMES.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, 1906.

Mr. Abner Gregory spent Sunday last here.

Carrier F. L. Martin is expected home in a few days.

Miss Zaida Abbitt is in Crewe, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Len Kelly.

Mr. R. T. Fleshman is happy—no occasion for his great joy is a 14 pound boy.

Miss Maude Gregory left last week for Columbus, Ohio, where she is the guest of Mrs. W. A. Marshall.

Leftwitch, LeGrand & Watts, are offering at their handsome clothing house on Main Street, Lynchburg, for 30 days only, great bargains for wearers of clothes.

It will be greatly to your interest to watch for the space of D. W. Myers in next week's paper, as he proposes to give an attractive reduction price list on all goods in his line.

Mr. Benj. F. Gunter was married to Mrs. Bettie S. Thornton at Evergreen Sunday by Rev. Dr. Wynn. Long life full of happiness is the wish of a host of friends of the newly wedded pair.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Liberty will have their regular monthly meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 23 at 3 p. m. at Mrs. C. A. Hancock's. Note the change in date from Wednesday to Tuesday. All members are earnestly requested to attend and bring in their envelopes with the contribution for Home Missions.

Operator Binford who has taken the place of Mr. H. C. Steele here, was suddenly seized with a violent bilious attack and had to be carried to his boarding house Tuesday night. Mr. Steele asks for a six months vacation in order that he may join the surveying corps which is surveying the belt line around Concord hill and Lynchburg.

Mr. Johnson who moved upon the farm of Hon. J. C. Jones this winter came to town Monday with a well developed case of small-pox. There are five or six cases over on the farm as said, and the citizens should demand a strick and rigid quarantine at all cases. Johnson after being ill was afflicted with small-pox this winter has the sympathy of the town and then left. He left the TIMES man that he would go home and would not appear on the streets again until cured. The case was directly traced to the Hat creek neighborhood, and was brought to the Johnson home by a visitor from Hat creek who had the disease during the holidays. The disease appears to be in a very mild form. It is horrible nevertheless, and should be dealt a knock-out blow by the authorities.

Misses Lily Hancock, Margaret and Emma Smith were in Lynchburg last week.

The tobacco sales at Pamplins increases in interest, buyers, quantity and quality of stock offered. Prices are well maintained.

Miss Harvey, daughter of Mr. Thomas Harvey, accompanied her physician, Dr. Julian Abbitt to Baltimore Monday for treatment.

Messrs. Luther Wright and R. W. Abbitt will open store at Vera at once. Mr. Wright is an old Appomattox boy and his friends welcome him back.

The County Meeting of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association of A. S. E. will meet at Gravely Ridge School House, Campbell County Saturday January 20th, at 9:30 a. m. All farmers invited to hear report of Plan of Selling and J. D. Shepperson's report from Kentucky and Tennessee.

J. B. CONNALLY, Sec'ty.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Fannie Drinkard reached us after our paper was printed last week, she having passed away on last Wednesday, at her home on Stonewall creek. The deceased was a long sufferer from Brights disease and had frequent sinking spells which at times were alarming to the family. She realized her condition and bore her affliction without a murmer. Her disposition was one of cheerfulness and she possessed to a marked degree those lovely graces and a christian character which drew to her the love and admiration of the community. Her maiden name, Fannie M. Herndon, and she was born in Campbell county June 2, 1836, a daughter of Achillis and Bettie Herndon. On May 4, 1859 she married Macajah Stone and five children were born as a result of this union, all of whom survive her as follows: Albert and Elmo Stone, of Lynchburg; Mrs. Henry Drinkard, Mrs. T. A. Drinkard and Mrs. J. S. Bondurant, of Appomattox. Seventeen years ago she married Mr. William Drinkard a highly esteemed gentleman, who survives her. She was a consistent member of Hebron Baptist church and had always manifested a deep interest in the work of her church. Her children were all with her during her last hours and aided the physicians in an effort to prolong her life, but the summons had come and her spirit took its flight to that eternal home beyond the sky. Her remains were interred at her late home in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Spring Mills.

FRIEND EDITOR.—Once more I have come to take a short space in your newsy and interesting columns.

Among the recent visitors of our neighborhood were Miss Lillian Bridgewell, of Lynchburg, who was the guest of the Misses Chisholm; Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Woolridge of Lynchburg spent several days at their old home here.

Mr. Wirt Woodson has moved into our midst—we are glad to give him a welcome.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Dell Ferguson is going out of the mercantile business at this place.

Mr. Thos. Nash had the misfortune to have one of his horse's legs broken.

Our teacher at Falling River, Miss Bertha Woolridge, spent her holidays at home. Miss Bertha is a fine teacher.

What has become of our Prospect correspondent?

How Tobacco is Handled.

There seems to be some misunderstanding among the farmers in reference to the prices set on tobacco upon which advancements will be made and the price set at Owensboro, Ky., and ratified by the Dark Tobacco Growers' Convention at Farmville. In order that they may understand this matter I publish the prices set by the District Executive Committee of Lynchburg, upon which Messrs. Suhling & Co, will advance 50 per cent., less 1 1-2 per cent., held back for the purpose of paying organization expenses. Prices:

Dogtail or primings (this includes the worthless variety of tobacco), $3.00.
Common lugs, $5 00.
Medium lugs, $6.
Good lugs, $7.
Nondescript leaf, $8.
Common short leaf, $8.
Medium short leaf, $9.
Good short leaf, $10.
Common long leaf, $10.
Medium long leaf, $12.
Good long leaf, $16.

Upon these prices the said Suhling & Co. have been arranged with to advance 50 per cent., less the 1 1-2 per cent, before named. Now, these prices are not selling prices, but your tobacco will be sold at the prices made at Owensboro, Ky., and ratified by your convention at Farmville, or an advance above those prices, as your national salesman and executive committee may decide upon in the future, but they cannot sell for less than the Owensboro prices.

The committee advise the farmer not to prize wrappers, as they are damaged by pressure; they are now in demand, and can be sold by sample at profitable prices. The handling of the money arising from your tobacco is hedged in by honest committeemen appointed by your people, men whom you can trust in any capacity.

We insist again on your not being in wet or very high order. Sell your lugs, medium leaf and common short at once, holding your good tobacco to be delivered last. This is applicable to farmers who have large crops, for the reason that there is no demand for long leaf and good tobacco until May, June and July, so if you deliver this in March or April you will have it in plenty of time to meet the demand.

Dr. T. W. EVANS,
President Lynchburg District Dark Tobacco Growers' Association.
Concord, Va.

Mr. W. H. Camp, Petersburg, Va.

Dear Sir: Yours to hand and noted, and in reply will say I purchased two barrels of Camp's Prepared Chemicals from your agent at this point, Mr. Wingfield. I intended using it on corn, but as Commissioner of Revenue, I had lots of riding to do about that time and overlooked it. So when I came to plant tobacco I was in a hurry and did not take the time to mix it, but drilled it along side of a 3, 9, 8, guano, same proportion, 500 lbs. to the acre, and have never been able to tell the difference, it is all fine tobacco. There is no experimenting station on my farm, run by the Bureau of Soils, and the Manager made considerable fuss of me using Chemicals. He seemed to doubt that it contained the ingredients it claimed to, so we drew a sample and he took it to Washington and had it analyzed. It ran 1 per cent higher on ammonia than you claimed and about the same on potash. I know several parties that did use your chemicals according to your directions this year with fine results.

Very respectfully, H. C. BABCOCK
